ELECTRICAL POWER DISTRIBUTION CENTER

Your vehicle is equipped with an electrical power distribution center located in the engine compartment near the battery. This power center houses the plug-in "Maxi" fuses which replace all the wire fusible links previously used. The power center also contains plug-in ISO relays.

A tool inside the latching cover of the center identifies each component for ease of replacement if necessary. "Maxi" fuses and relays can be obtained from your Jeep dealer.

NOTE:

If your radio exhibits erratic memory loss, please check under the hood in the Power Distribution Center. Make certain that the IOD fuse (#17) is firmly seated.

Jeep needs to be accountable for this. I do not want warranty to run out before manufactuer corrects this problem. The dealership also stated that the noise is normal. Jeep Wrangler nv3550 manual five speed transmission noise. The contact stated that while driving at approximately 15 mph, the vehicle started to make an abnormal knocking and bucking noise. . The failure recurred while driving in 3rd and 4th gear. I feel that other owners and I are being given the run around due to the high cost to dealerships if they admit this is a problem. I rented the same model Jeep for two weeks before buying this one so I know exactly how it should drive. 2009 Jeep Wrangler 2 door 6-speed manual transmission - pops out of 1st gear randomly. At 1030 am 08 September 2016, my Jeep Wrangler caught fire and was determined a total loss. Now after getting back home to maryland on 6/5/16 I go to try and accelorate onto the highway from a ramp and the transmission revs to 5,500 rpm but the Jeep will not accelerate. No corrective action has been performed. See all problems of the 2001 Jeep Wrangler °ÂÂÂÂ. I am told Chrysler will not authorize the repairs or the replacement of the defective parts. Only indicating that the clutch is a "wearble part". I have a 2008 Jeep Wrangler x, manual transmission. they replaced, free of charge, a water pump (invoice 189828). The vehicle is still under full factory warranty, the transmission should be replaced if it can not be repaired. I paid too much for my Jeep to have my experience ruined by a bad transmission. See all problems of the 2010 Jeep Wrangler °ÂÂÂÂ. Dealer replaced transmission which corrected popping out of gear problem but new tranny is still noisy when idling in neurtral. On 5/6/16 I went to start my 2014 Jeep Wrangler unlimited rubicon and the engine did not make a noise but the dash lit up like a christmas tree. The vehicle was towed to the dealership where the recall repair was performed. Chrysler refuses to acknowledge problem. Unidentified noise from transmission. Dealers all say this is normal, but new venture gear (transmission manufacturer) when contacted says it was not designed to make this noise. The approximate failure mileage was 120,000. The dealer(not the one I purchased it from) says it has no knowledge of any problems. Transmission kicks out of first gear when begining to accelerate. Now what?. The contact owns a 2008 Jeep wranger. I towed it to the dealer and was advised that it was a common problem and was called the "tipm module" which is basically the entire fuse box and part of the computer. When I finally picked my Jeep up on 02/07/2014 mr. The vehicle was taken to the dealer and diagnosed that the transmission needed to be replaced. It only does this as the engine gets warm. See all problems of the 2015 Jeep Wrangler °ÂÂÂÂ. The transmission hesitates to transition between gears while accelerating and even makes a loud high idling noise while accelerating as if it doesn't want to accelerate. Now, just as the warranty is running out they claim these same noises are a failing transmission that needs repair at the cost of $2000. Last year I had received a safety recall notice n28/NHTSA 13v-234 from Chrysler. Noise is worse when transmission is hot. Sw. This is complaint related to safety recall notice n28/NHTSA 13v-234 (transmission oil cooler tube). See all problems of the 2014 Jeep Wrangler °ÂÂÂÂ. I am concerned that transmission will fail. The manual transmission makes an unsual noise when the clutch is released and the vehicle is in neutral.
